

EMT-I Instructor FINAL Update Class

The EMT-I Instructor Update class is intended to provide existing instructors with valuable information regarding the changes to the California Code of Regulations, Title 22, for Emergency Medical Technicians. All existing instructors are required to "requalify" by attending a one-day update class in order to maintain their instructor status and continue teaching EMT courses for State Fire Training.

The changes to Title 22 produced a dramatic change to not only the delivery of State Fire Training's EMT-I training, but to the certification procedures as well. Highlights include:

- EMT-Is can be a primary instructor
- Any certification or license must be current in order to teach (previously EMT-Ps were allowed to lapse)
- The National Registry EMT-Basic Exam is the certifying exam for California
- Modifications to the scope of practice
- Replaces required course content with the US DOT's EMT-B National Standard Curriculum
- Requires CPR equivalent to the AHA's Healthcare Provider as a prerequisite to EMT-1 Basic Training
- Minimum hours for a basic course increased
- Clinical experience can no longer be simulated
- Additional continuing education hours added to refresher training when certification lapses for more than 12 months

[ ] I am a currently registered EMT-I Instructor with State Fire Training

Please be aware of a change that may affect whether you chose to requalify. Current certification or license is required to be a primary instructor. Previously, EMT-Ps were allowed to have their license expire. If your EMT-P license has expired, you will have to renew it and keep it current or certify at the EMT-I level and keep that certification current.

- ☞ Enrollment is on a first-come, first-served basis.
- ☞ Must attend update class to maintain instructor status.
- ☞ Make check/money order payable to: Roseville Fire

State Fire Training wishes to extend a thank you to the Roseville Fire Department for their support in the completion of this project.
